BUOY RESCUED IN LAKE STORM

Ian Tostenson, 12, of Kelowna and friends Bill McIntosh, 16, of Vancouver, while boating Monday came upon a buoy in distress—that should be a buoy. It turned out to be one of the eight-foot high buoys used to mark the course during hydroplane week. Monday's storm tore the marker from its anchor. Then these lads braved four- and five-foot waves in a 10-foot boat for one- and a-half hours towing the buoy to shore, just as a community service. A witness said the boys were courageous in their efforts, but a little foolhardy as their boat could have been swamped.

Hong Kong Terrorists Bomb Elevator In Hilton Hotel

HONG KONG (CP)—Communist terrorists bombed a Hilton Hotel elevator today then planted a second bomb in the same elevator while demolition experts investigated the initial blast, police said.

"It looks like they were trying to get one or more of our men," police said.

No one was injured by the first blast and the second bomb was spotted and detonated by the experts.

The blast came as authorities awaited tonight's deadline that China put on its 48-hour ultimatum demanding the release of jailed Communist newspaper men.

Britain has rejected the ultimatum.

The trial of five local newspaper executives accused of sedition and other offences went into its second day today.

The colony's off mainland China was shaken up by tropical storm Kate Monday, which hit with 60-mile-an-hour gusts and injured 40 persons.

Communist Chinese official organization in Britain. These include the New China news agency, the Bank of China and a number of trading organizations.

The British order was telephoned to the Chinese mission here at 4:30 p.m., immediately after a dramatic message from Peking said that Chinese demonstrators were breaking into the British mission.

The foreign office lost radio contact with the mission as the operator in Peking interrupted a message he was sending with the words "They are breaking in."

Demonstrations outside the British mission built up during the day as the deadline approached for China's 48-hour ultimatum to Britain over Hong Kong colony.

This demanded among other things that three banned Peking newspapers in the British colony of Hong Kong be allowed to resume publishing.

OLD SOLDIER'S VIEW

Let's Hit China Right Now

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Retired army Gen. Mark Clark, who commanded American forces in two wars, says he thinks military action should be taken against China.

"The time to act against China is now, because if they develop their nuclear capabilities, we'll have more headaches," Clark said Monday night.

He spoke to the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"I've dealt with the Communists before, and the only thing they understand is force."

He commanded U.S. troops in Italy during the Second World War and later was allied commander in Korea.

Clark said the ideals of the Chinese Communists hadn't changed since the Korean War and noted that men are still being killed in Korea.

"We have 50,000 men and the South Koreans have 300,000 men patrolling the demilitarized zone there along the 38th parallel," Clark said.

"If we back down in Vietnam, we'll have another 50,000 men guarding the DMZ, the 17th parallel and the Communnists will start trouble in another part of the free world."

Clark recalled that due to politics he couldn't fight north of the Yalu River, the boundary between North Korea and China. The Communists knew his restrictions and weren't afraid.

"Again, we can't go into China," said Clark. "Many say you're liable to start World War III. But when I signed the Korean armistice, the allied nations informed China that we'd no longer fight them with our hands tied behind our backs."

Posties Split Over Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Union of Postal Workers will proceed with a 24-hour strike Friday despite opposition from some member locals.

CUPW President Bill Kay said Monday.

Mr. Kay said in an interview the 12,000-member union does not enter into "something like this" and then back off.

"We're going through with it," he said. He added that most of the mail dispatchers and postal clerks who make up the union membership would honor the strike call.

Postal authorities in Kelowna have received no word from the Canadian Union about local action regarding the one-day strike.

Postmaster W. J. Burgess said he will know definitely before Friday what Kelowna employees will do.

A representative of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers in the city said indications were western Canada would not join in the strike but added: "We cannot comment accurately until word has been received from union heads."

Mr. Kay, from Vancouver, said he was particularly disappointed that the union's Vancouver local had decided to stay on the job. He hoped these and other opposed locals would reconsider.

The union plans to throw up picket lines around post offices across the country when the one-day stoppage starts at 12:01 a.m. EDT Friday.

Although letter carriers are in a separate union, it was thought they would not cross CUPW picket lines.

Mr. Kay said the strike is to prevent a recurrence of the federal government's decision that deprived 2,500 postal workers of a one-day holiday.

The affected postal workers had a regular day off July 3, a day set aside as a holiday for most civil servants because Dominion Day fell on a Saturday, July 1.

Postal workers and other civil servants who had July 3 off as a matter of course got no compensating time off or overtime pay.

Mr. Kay said he had not been in touch with the government recently and so had no idea of how they would react to the walkout.

The government had made it clear earlier there was no commitment to give the additional day off to employees who had a regular day off July 3.

Both sides awaited the decision of the board that administers the Public Service Staff Relations Act on the legality of the strike. The federal treasury board asked the staff relations board to declare it illegal. Meanwhile Mr. Kay says it appears to be illegal, but the board must decide that.

Under the act, the government can impose fines on strikers, union officers and the union for an illegal strike.

One Of War's Biggest Raids Costs U.S. Six Planes Lost

SAIGON (CP)—One of the heaviest attacks of the Vietnam war on the Hanoi-Haiphong area cost the United States six planes Monday, including two jets lost in China trying to escape Communist MiGs and surface-to-air missiles, the U.S. command announced today.

The raids were among the war's costliest for U.S. pilots. Eight flyers are missing.

The U.S. command announced that U.S. attacks came within 1.1 miles of the centre of Hanoi, and Communist broadcasts claimed eight U.S. planes were shot down, five of them in attacks on the North Vietnamese capital.

The planes struck Hanoi's main power plant, and rain bombs on the country's biggest naval base as well as a MIG airfield and rail links with

The loss of the six planes raised to 653 the number of U.S. combat planes officially reported down over North Vietnam.

The record American loss of the air war against North Vietnam was suffered last Dec. 2, when eight U.S. planes were downed.

The ground war in South Vietnam flamed up with a battle just below the demilitarized zone in which 109 Viet Cong were reported killed and other sharp actions which the U.S. command said cost the Viet Cong 153 dead. The command reported seven Americans killed and 51 wounded.

HONG KONG (Reuters)—China charged today that violation of its air space Monday by two U.S. Navy jets reported shot down was a "blatant provocation" and stressed that the Chinese people are ready for combat.

An article in the Peking People's Daily, organ of the Communist party, said: "If the Americans impose a war forcibly on the Chinese people, the Chinese will be ready to fight them to the end."

Biafrans Capture Key Points In Battle Against Lagos Rule

LAGOS, Nigeria (Reuters)—Secessionist Biafran forces took control of main roads leading to Lagos and the Western capital of Ibadan early today after capturing the strategic town of Ore, informed sources said here.

They confirmed that federal troops withdrew five miles from Ore after a day of bitter fighting Monday and took up new positions.

Federal sources said air strikes were expected to be used to counter the Biafran push into western Nigeria. After ambushing a federal column Monday, then pushing 17 miles into western Nigeria, the troops from Biafra, the breakaway former Eastern Region of Nigeria, were expected to continue their advance west, the sources said.

The breakaway forces appeared to be making a determined effort to score decisive gains before the federal government's newly delivered Soviet and Czechoslovak aircraft could be used against them.

Observers here said the capture of Ore by Biafra was its biggest gain since it captured the Midwest Region two weeks ago.

That Makes 100 To Swim Channel

SANDGATE, England (AP)—Geoffrey Lake, a 20-year-old English accountant, became the 100th recorded person to swim the English Channel from France to England when he came ashore at midnight Monday night. The swim, from Calais, France, took 15 hours, 21 minutes.

Forests Banned For Recreation As Fires Rage

Hippies Allege Brutality

TORONTO (CP)—Hundreds of Yorkville denizens continued demonstrations Monday as Torontoians debated hippie charges of police brutality in quelling Sunday evening's mass protest in the downtown coffee-house district.

Eight chanting demonstrators were arrested Monday evening as several hundred hippies there a day through bumper-to-bumper traffic and stood in the street.

As in Sunday's disturbance, when 48 persons were arrested, the hippies efforts to back up their demands for closing Yorkville's main street to traffic were watched by a crowd estimated at 3,000 to 5,000.

But unlike Sunday evening, there were no complaints of police manhandling demonstrators.

Eyewitnesses to Sunday's fracas claim police clubbed, slapped and kicked demonstrators as they dumped them into police wagons.

Police Chief James Mackey Monday defended police conduct in Sunday night's demonstration, saying they used "only the force needed to arrest these people."

"The officers simply did what was necessary. I have no knowledge of any person being hurt in any way. I fully support my men."

Swimming Girl Hurt By Boat

A 13-year-old Alberta girl underwent surgery in the Kelowna General Hospital Monday for head and arm injuries suffered in a boating accident earlier in the day on Wood Lake, 15 miles north of Kelowna.

Hospital authorities said today Judy Clutton of Sunset House, Alta., is in satisfactory condition. She is believed to have been vacationing in the Oyma area with her parents.

Police said the accident occurred when a boat, towing a skier and operated by Mrs. Evelyn Bartlett of Abbotsford, collided with a swimmer about 50 yards from shore.

The 14-foot boat was powered by a 50-horsepower motor and had three occupants, police say. Mrs. Bartlett had been attending a Bible camp in Winfield. The accident occurred about 10:45 a.m. Police said no details of what part of the boat struck the swimmer were available.

Alaskans Mop Up After Deluge

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Thousands of homeowners put their efforts behind mops, brooms and shovels while heavy machinery worked outside as a massive cleanup program began Tuesday in this flood-ravaged central Alaska community.

Public Carelessness Given Part Of Blame

Serious forest fire conditions have prompted a recreational closure of the Kamloops Forest District, which includes Kelowna, beginning at midnight today.

Officials said the closure resulted from "the most serious forest fire hazard situation and the large number of fires caused by human carelessness, and the rapid spread of such fires."

The closure will affect all areas of the forest district except that portion north and west from the Thompson and North Thompson rivers.

Areas south and east, including the Okanagan, Ashcroft, Merritt, Princeton, Sicamous and the Shuswap Lakes, will all fall under the ban.

Under the closure no person may be within one-half mile of forest or woodland off a public highway for purposes other than mining, lumbering, construction and such industries.

Access or egress may be made to summer cabins directly by public road, to permanent homes or to fully-supervised forest service approved campsites.

Issuing of campfire permits in the area was suspended Aug. 17.

Three fires in the Kamloops district, all out of control, were blamed today on careless campers.

One fire covers 30,000 acres and was burning out of control late Monday.

The blaze was caused by a hiker who discarded a lighted cigarette in the area during the weekend, officers said.

Winds of up to 40 mph swept across the southern Interior, fanning both old and new fires until many became too hot to fight.

Others Burn Out Of Control

Other blazes were out of control in the Paxton Valley south of Chase and on the Mad River in the North Thompson area.

Both cover 1,000 acres and efforts to fight them were being impeded by extremely hot weather.

The firefighting force in the Kamloops and Nelson forest districts was increased by 750 men during the weekend, bringing the total to 3,144, the largest number so far this year. Fires totalled about 400.

Rain Monday helped firefighters keep many of the fires now burning in check but lightning accompanying the storms worsened the situation in many areas.

Firefighting costs in the Kam-loops district last week were higher than the total recorded in the entire province at this time a year ago.

Officials have repeatedly described the situation as "critical."

Little hope for improvement in the near future remained after long-range forecasts indicated hot, dry weather for the remainder of this week.

AROUND B.C.

Four Injured In Boat Blast

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four persons injured when their pleasure craft exploded and sank six miles off Vancouver were sent to Nanaimo Monday for treatment. Ralph Steinberger, 22, and his wife Florence, 17, of Edmonton, and Al Obreck and Marie Turgon, both of California, suffered burns, cuts and fatigue.

FISH GRABBED

GENOA BAY (CP)—A hand-to-fist battle with a 36-pound salmon by Jeff Hancock, 12, and Norman Talman, 13, of this community ended when the two landed the large fish Monday. The battle took 20 minutes.

$80 STOLEN

VANCOUVER (CP)—A neatly dressed bandit took $80 from a drugstore clerk Monday. Ed Rolinger, 36, said the man, who was armed, forced him to lie on the floor after taking the money. James Riley, 42, was charged with armed robbery.

FALCON STOLEN

VANCOUVER (CP)—Don Watt, 22, whose falcon was stolen from its perch in a yard Saturday, said the bird "could be in for a lot of trouble" because the bird bites and scratches if it is not handled the right way.

SALVAGE CREWS NEEDED

Mystery surrounds the sinking in the Kelowna Yacht Basin of this powerboat owned by Ted Runkalla of Pandosy St., Kelowna, who is seen here examining the partly submerged vessel. High winds which stirred up the lake Monday are not thought responsible. Damage will be assessed as soon as salvage operations are complete.

Pears Hit Peak Apples Nearing

Picking of Bartlett pears has started in all areas of the Okanagan and is well past the peak in some, according to the Okanagan-Kootenay farm labor bulletin.

In the Kelowna area, picking has just started and there is a small demand for help. The labor supply-demand situation is generally balanced, with a slight surplus of inexperienced help.

Bartlett picking has started in Rutland and there is a slight demand for labor. A total of 150 cherry pickers are needed but workers must have their own tents and transportation.

Picking of Bartlett pears started today in the Winfield area. A balanced labor supply-demand situation exists.

Picking has also started in the Vernon area, where there is a slight demand for help.

Peach picking is in progress at Vernon and Bartlett picking was scheduled to begin Monday. There is little demand for help in the area.

Picking of Bartlett pears is near the peak or past in most other areas. A balanced labor supply-demand situation exists in most of these areas.

Qualified experts have forecast the general picking of McIntosh apples about Sept. 6 to 10.

BUSINESSMAN ASKS

Fine To Promote Regatta But What About Campsite?

Complaints by the City of Kelowna and the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce were answered with another complaint Monday night.

A. B. Wigglesworth, a city businessman, wrote the council regarding recent complaints that businessmen did not do enough to promote special events such as the Kelowna International Regatta and the British Columbia Cup unlimited hydroplane races.

Both the city and chamber were critical of merchants who did little to promote the events, but were happy to take in money spent by visitors.

Following is a portion of Mr. Wigglesworth's letter:

You, the mayor, city council and chamber of commerce make a big hue and cry because you think merchants are not doing their share to encourage tourists to come to Kelowna. You claim other cities in the Valley are doing a lot more than we are.

I agree. Other cities are doing more; so apparently are their city councils and chambers of commerce. What kind of tourist promotion do you call it when you raise a big shout and hullabaloo about the Regatta and hydroplane races, and quietly, without any shouting or fuss, close down one of the nicest and busiest places for tourist accommodation. Yes, Mayor Parkinson and city council, two years ago, you closed the campsite at the foot of Knox Mountain. Two years later, we are still besieged with would-be campers wanting to know what happened to the lovely campsite in the north end of town. Is this your way of encouraging tourists?

The area referred to by Mr. Wigglesworth is now used as a picnic area.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson said "unfortunately this gentleman has been harping on this for two years. Of course it has affected his business."

The mayor said there were "not that many" campsites in the park and the situation was looked at carefully by the parks and recreation commission before a decision was made to eliminate the campsite.

Mayor Parkinson said the city should not be in competition with private enterprise in the camping business.

He said there were problems with people staying too long in the campsite.

Ald. D. A. Chapman said the area was small and certainly not one of the most desirable for a campsite.

ANOTHER 'PHANTOM' WINNER

The second presentation of the chamber of commerce award of merit was made this week to Mrs. John Reinheimer, a cosmetician at Trench's Drugs Ltd., on Bernard Avenue.

The certificate is awarded each week to someone dealing with the public who shows courtesy and friendliness to the people served. The selection is made by a "phantom visitor" who drifts through downtown places of business looking for someone worthy of the award. The purpose of the award is to encourage those who come in contact with visitors to be friendly.

JULY 15 FATALITIES

No Blame Attached To Surviving Driver

A coroner's jury ruled Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Luther Long of Rutland died by misadventure July 15.

The retired Seventh-day Adventist minister and his wife were pronounced dead at the scene of a two-car collision on Highway 97 north at the intersection of the Black Mountain Road.

The jury said the Long vehicle, driven by Mr. Long, 83, left a stop sign when it was unsafe to do so. The driver of the other car, Richard Schultz, 47, of 858 Cawston Ave., was absolved of any blame in connection with the accident.

Schultz was driving north on Highway 97 when the collision occurred shortly after 9 a.m.

The jury recommended an amber light be placed at the intersection.

The verdict was returned after the jury retired for only 20 minutes.

Const. K. A. Raymond, who attended the accident, said the Schultz vehicle left skid marks up to 56 feet. Coroner D. M. White said the marks indicated a quick reaction on the part of the driver.

The Long vehicle, which was attempting to cross the highway to proceed south, was pushed 30 feet from the point of impact, the constable said. A mechanical inspection revealed both cars were in good condition.

Abbott Street 'Get-Together' 'New' Function For Kelowna

A section of Abbott Street will be closed next Wednesday for a "neighborly get-together."

Being closed is the section of Abbott from Christleton Avenue to Birch Avenue.

The get-together, a popular social affair in parts of the United States in recent years, is designed to let people meet their neighbors.

Organized as a centennial project, the Abbott Street affair will feature dancing, and refreshments.

The Staff Administration Committee, in its recommendation to the council, suggested the request to close the street be granted, but only because it was a centennial project.

The SAC cautioned against setting a precedent and said similar requests in non-centennial years should "almost certainly be refused."

The council did not appear to agree.

"If others want to do something similar we should take a good look at the request," said Mayor Parkinson.

"Getting to know your neighbors is a good idea," he said.

L. A. N. Potterton agreed.

Ald. Thomas Angus quickly moved that permission be given to block the street between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. and Ald. R. J. Wilkinson was "most pleased" to second the motion, which was unanimously approved.

Mayor Parkinson said if the Abbott Street get-together went well a good pattern will have been established for future events.

Fred Brooks, RR 5, said he was stopped behind the Long vehicle on Black Mountain Road and saw a car approaching on Highway 97. He said the Long car pulled out with fast acceleration, not a normal start. He thought the man's foot had slipped off the brake onto the accelerator.

Mr. Schultz said the Long car came from the intersection slowly but when he saw it, he could do nothing but apply his brakes. He was travelling in the centre lane and he said there were several cars on his right.

He said he was travelling at 50 mph.

At the inquest Mr. Schultz had a language difficulty. Another witness, Ernie Huff, an elderly passenger in the front seat of the Long vehicle, had difficulty hearing, speaking and remembering.

His statement made earlier to police was read, in which he said he saw the oncoming car and told Mr. Long to stop and let the car go by; "he didn't stop and we were hit."

Motor Vehicle Incidents Result In Court Appearances

A Kelowna man, involved in an accident with a motorcycle driver, was fined $150 in magistrate's court today for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Simon R. Potvin pleaded guilty to the charge. He was involved in an accident on Highway 97 at Burch Road, July 31.

Blaze Does Slight Damage

A concession booth and contents, in the area of the hydroplane pits, were damaged by fire Monday at 6:22 p.m.

Assistant fire chief, Jack Roberts, said someone turned on a deep fat fryer a few hours prior to a working party dismantling the booth. The fryer was turned on to facilitate cleaning. The fryer caught fire and also destroyed were a refrigerator, electric stove and part of a plywood ceiling.

The loss is thought to be covered by floating insurance policies, but will be slight because the equipment was not new, Mr. Roberts said.

Small bottles of propane gas near the booth were removed by firemen when they arrived on the scene.

STAFF-SERGEANT RETIRING

They Once Hid Behind Tombstones

By TERRY UTLEY
Courier Staff Writer

A man with more than a quarter century of service with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will retire at the end of August.

Staff Sgt. G. A. Phillips, 56, is voluntarily accepting retirement and will be replaced as head of the Kelowna detachment by Staff Sgt. K. A. Attree, 48, of Cloverdale.

The police officer has no regrets at the end of his 25 years with the force. He says if he had to start his life again he would follow the same career.

Born in Vancouver, he first joined the force Jan. 1, 1933, and trained at the Fairmont barracks in Vancouver, a training depot later abolished. In 1936 he was invalided out of the force and tried bankruptcy as Gary Frazier who later re-entered the force in 1938. He received the George medal for bravery after being shot and wounded in the leg while working for the Bank of Montreal in 1938 when he was asked for a raise and was fired instead.

He went into the railway working for the in the dead of night while a fellow Canadian National Railway official quoted Shakespeare and the train derailed in 1931.

He joined the B.C. police force and was with them when the RCMP took over Aug. 15, 1950.

During his 29 years of policing and several days later a suggestion was made to police to a, the city, which was not a Port Alberni and Alberni, later.

Cowichan, Nanaimo, Terrace and Kamloops before arriving in Kelowna Sept. 1, 1965.

Most of his work was general duties, but he did service with the Criminal Investigation Branch and in the finger printing department.

The 6-foot 4-inch officer, who weighs 250 pounds, insists his career was uneventful.

He does recall duty with the riot squad in Vancouver during the depression, when his duties included control of unemployed demonstrators seeking food and jobs.

"It was an unpleasant job," he said. "We had to control the crowds from horseback. They were only trying to stay alive."

He was once part of an escort for Clifford Bailey, listed in the 1950s as one of Canada's most wanted criminals.

In Terrace he probed two bank robberies with Const. Gier force and tried bankruptcy as Gary Frazier who later re-entered the force in 1938. He received the George medal for bravery after being shot and wounded in the leg while working for the Bank of Montreal in 1938 when he was asked for a raise and was fired instead.

STAFF PHILLIPS

family's suspicions, medical and legal and police officials dug the body up during the night and proceeded to do an autopsy by flashlight.

In the middle of the operation, a spooning young couple drove up to the graveyard and the officials, including a hunchback coroner, hid behind tombstones.

When it became apparent the couple was going to remain for some time, a police official told the coroner to go up to the car and get rid of the couple in some manner.

The hunchback rose up from behind a tombstone and before anyone could say "ghost" the couple, shot out of the graveyard like lightning.

The police officer began to quote as the autopsy continued. "This is now the very witching time of night, when churchyards yawn, and Hell itself breathes out contagion to the world. Now could I drink hot blood, and do such things as the day would quake to look upon."

The cause of death? A peptic ulcer.

When Staff Sgt. Phillips first joined the force the pay was $31 a month, although the men were housed and fed. Now a recruit gets about $400. There were 2,700 men in the force then compared with more than 20,000 now.

There was no radio communication with headquarters or other police cars in the early days and the advent of radio communication was looked upon as a boon to policing when it arrived in the early 1940s. At first the communication was one-way. The message was received and the sender could only hope it was heard.

The staff sergeant sees a lot to be learned from the type of crime today, to fraud, bank robbery, mail-order, and stock manipulation, compared to crimes of earlier times of breaking, entering and strong arming.

He thinks the day will come when the force will have to meet its demands.

One of the things which has bothered him during the years is the apparently opposing interests of lawyers and policemen. The staff sergeant says policemen want to protect society from impaired drivers, sex criminals, lawyers, he says are interested only in getting their clients off.

He would like to see coroner's inquests dispensed with "because they serve no function."

Police make full inquiries and a report on fatalities. Inquests came into being before there was such a thing as police prosecutors, and a medical profession.

Staff Sgt. Phillips intends to remain in Kelowna because "it's the best place to live." He has accepted a part-time job as a cattle brand inspector for the provincial government, inspecting brands on cattle sold and shipped in the Kelowna area.

He expects to be busy in his retirement. His hobbies include fishing, horseback riding and gardening. He plays the bow-fiddle in an orchestra with his wife, Lorna, daughter of Ivy Evans, a gifted pianist and organist who performed in the Orpheum Theatre in Vancouver in the 1930s.

No Word Yet On Green Slime

A Kelowna lakeshore resort owner has had no response from Victoria officials to whom he sent bottled samples of slimy green, algae-infested water from his beach.

Disturbed with the lack of action on pollution control, Emerson Farrend sent the samples to Premier Bennett, MLA for the Kelowna area, to J. C. Kennan, director of the Pollution Control Board and to K. F. Harding, president of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Farrend, who has $200,000 invested in a south-end resort, also wrote Mayor R. F. Parkinson describing the conditions in Okanagan Lake as "appalling" and "atrocious".

Mr. Farrend said Monday the mayor has not come to look at the beach area and no one has acknowledged receipt of his water samples. He said before taking any further steps or commenting further he would seek advice from a lawyer.

Executive members of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce are planning a trip on Okanagan Lake Sunday to check signs of pollution. The group will leave from the ramp near the Aquatic Building in the City Park at 8:30 a.m. The mayor and aldermen have been invited to attend.

In his letter to the mayor, Mr. Farrend urged immediate action to rectify the pollution problem, before Kelowna's tourist industry becomes a thing of the past.

The city's sewage outfall runs into the lake, two blocks from Mr. Farrend's resort.

The Vancouver New Studio Theatre group will present Little Malcolm and his struggle against the eunuchs, by David Halliwell. The play will be presented at the Kelowna Community Theatre Aug. 25 and 26 at 8:30 p.m.

The play will also be given at the Powerhouse Theatre, Vernon, Aug. 28 and 29 at 8:30 p.m. Jürgen Gothe and Steve Cummings, both of Vancouver, will read their poetry in the exhibition area of the City Park during the festival.

A mime trio from Simon Fraser University will give daily performances, and Kelowna folk singer Dick Clements has arranged a program of singing, guitar and banjo playing.

An added attraction of the festival will be public participation painting.

Paints and brushes will be provided and murals will be especially erected for the public.

Kelowna Summer School of Art students will participate in the creating of large sculptures in the exhibition area of the park.

WOODS DISPUTE HEARINGS START

The first meeting of an inquiry into the dispute between the International Woodworkers of America and employers was to be held today in Kamloops.

Judge F. Craig Munroe is the commissioner. He was appointed earlier this month by the government in an attempt to stop a strike by 8,000 lumber workers in the Interior.

Interior workers are seeking parity with Coast workers. Parity would give Interior workers a 50-cent-an-hour increase, to $2.76.

Northern Interior employers have offered a 20-cent-an-hour increase, over two years, while southern employers have offered an increase of 25 cents an hour over two years.

Jack Moore, regional president of the IWA said last week he did not know how long the inquiry will take.

More Attractions Added To Summer Arts Festival

A film and another guest artist have joined the impressive list of entertainment for the Okanagan Summer Arts Festival.

The festival will be held Aug. 24 to 27.

Simon Fraser University has offered a half-hour film for the festival, and Leo Adams of Yakima, a U.S. artist, will exhibit his work.

The festival will open with documentary and short films. They will be shown in the Art Centre Aug. 24 and 27 at 8:30 p.m. Included will be a film about the Okanagan, called Contrasts, directed by Ray Turner.

The film festival is being held in co-operation with the Kelowna office of the National Film Board of Canada.

In the City Park from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Aug. 25 to 27 there will be an exhibition of paintings, sculptures, pottery and ceramics and demonstrations by artists of their work.

Artists taking part will come from the Okanagan, with 11 guest exhibitors, nationally recognized artists from Vancouver, Victoria and Nelson.

COUNCIL AT WORK

Kelowna Mayor, Aldermen Will Receive Higher Salary

A pay raise for the mayor and aldermen of the City of Kelowna has been approved unanimously by the council. Effective the beginning of last month the mayor's annual salary jumps to $5,000, from $3,600, and for each alderman to $2,000 from $1,200.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson said the increases were based on population and set by the Legislature. A bylaw to cover the increases was given first three readings Monday night and is expected to gain final approval next Monday.

Mayor Parkinson said Kelowna was one of the last B.C. communities to vote on the raises. He said he had been behind them was to attract younger people to council posts and also business people.

Four Appear Before Court

A Kelowna man, said to have kicked an arresting peace officer, was fined $100 in magistrate's court today, on a charge of causing a disturbance by swearing.

Andrew James Crowthers pleaded guilty to the charge but said the officer twisted his arm which had an injury. He was arrested Aug. 12 when police investigated a complaint of a man shouting in the Capri parking lot at 11:50 p.m.

James Clough, Westbank, was fined $150 when he pleaded guilty to driving while his licence was under suspension. He said he had to take a child to hospital. The magistrate said he should have called an ambulance. Clough said he had no telephone.

Jo Ann Wyler, alias Joan Harnden, Kelowna, pleaded guilty to a charge of false pretences, and was remanded in custody to Aug. 29 for sentencing, pending a report from the probation officer.

The prosecutor said the accused bought shoes at the Fashion Shoe store July 22 and after paying by cheque, received $7 in cash. The cheque was returned marked not sufficient funds, the prosecutor said. He said later 10 other cheques were returned by the same bank. The accused said she thought someone in Vancouver was going to put money into her account.

Magistrate D. M. White dismissed a charge of assault on Mark Kinsasket of Enderby, July 29. A Crown witness who had been in custody in Omak until Friday, failed to appear in Kelowna. Homer Robinson, Kinsasket's lawyer, requested the charge be dismissed and the Crown prosecutor asked for a stay of proceedings. The magistrate said the accused had been inconvenienced enough and justice must be done.

Bill Hardcastle, successor to Vera Weller in the Central Okanagan Regional Planning District, was introduced to the council. Mr. Weller leaves soon to continue his studies at a United States university. Mr. Hardcastle, a former United Kingdom planner, has been chief planner in Edmonton and a member of planning organizations in Surrey and Columbia Shuswap before coming to the Central Okanagan.

A public zoning hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the city council chambers to consider several proposed changes.

Given final reading was a bylaw covering the purchase for $15,000 of Lombardy Park from Pridham Estates Ltd. A portion of the area is expected to be used for a proposed new Boys Club. The council was told last week the land could be sold for residential use at a profit if necessary. The vote Monday was 4-0 in favor, with Ald. Weller absent. Last week Ald. Roadhouse voted against, saying taxpayers' money should not be spent for land the city does not require.

George Athans Jr., the Kelowna youngster who this week gained a berth on the Canadian world water ski championship team, was again congratulated by Mayor Parkinson.

"He's a wonderful ambassador for the City of Champions," said the mayor. "I know he will do well and we'll send him a telegram Friday before the world championships in Quebec."

Injured Man Keeps Quiet

A 44-year-old fruit picker, in Rutland for three months, was found lying in an alley in the north end of Kelowna Monday at 10:45 p.m. with a broken arm and hip.

Police said the man, John Mullings, whose permanent address is not known, said he had been thrown from a car. He refused to identify the occupants or give any description of the vehicle.

A passerby called police to say a man was lying in the lane behind Kelowna Machine Works Ltd., located at 1247 Ellis St. The man was taken to the Kelowna General Hospital.

Two Hectic Weeks Of Fun And Thrills Are Over

A good many people will heave a sigh of relief as they reflect the past two weeks are actually over. The Regatta and the Unlimiteds following on successive weeks has been something to cope with—especially with better than ninety-degree heat.

It can be said from the spectators' viewpoint both events were successful. Each provided its own thrills and each ran off without any apparent hitch. The Regatta, while perhaps not the most spectacular, definitely ranked as one of the better ones and most visitors appeared to be quite happy with the whole thing. As for the Unlimiteds, this year was very different from their first appearance a year ago. Then everything seemed to go wrong; few heats on the preliminary days and bad weather on the final race day.

This year, as with the Regatta, the weather co-operated and racing conditions were just about ideal. More, there was a better understanding on the part of both the spectators and the drivers and the result was three days of spectacular racing, either competitive or against time. Most spectators, we imagine, went home entirely pleased. They should have for at least two of the heats were tight enough that they were ranked by the drivers themselves as among the tops for excitement on the Unlimited circuit this year.

As shows both the Regatta and the Unlimiteds were successful. But there are other aspects of such events which must effect their success. The financial aspect is one of these. Preliminary figures indicate that in this regard the Regatta did a little better than break even. While a substantial profit would be very welcome, with everything considered a break-even financial position must allow the adjective "successful" to be used, as there are many other side effects to an event such as the Regatta. Such as more people in town and thus more business for the merchants.

A break-even position for the Unlimiteds would also have to be classed as deserving the full meaning of the word "successful." Certainly a lot of people saw the racing; certainly there were many visitors to town, brought here by the racing. The difficulty is that due to the nature of the event itself, it is very difficult for the committee to finance it.

This is not an unusual situation. It has happened before in other places and it will happen again. It is the sad story of many such events that require a great deal of space. Unlimited racing is not unlike an airshow. The one is on a large body of open water; the other is in the wide, blue sky. Neither can be hidden from any who chooses to watch. No high board fence can be erected to force the cash register to ring.

Short Takes

One can see anything on Bernard Avenue. Such as on Friday, a man dressed in a dark grey suit, white shirt and tie—and bare feet!

If all the provinces agree to introduce medicare next July 1, it will add at least $420 million to the federal government's annual costs, according to the Financial Post. And it could be a great deal more. This is the dilemma federal policy makers face in trying to work out their financial requirements for next year and the reason why Finance Minister Sharp has set the whole medicare funding question to one side while drawing up spending plans. Ottawa has agreed to pay 50% of the national average per capita cost of medical care to those provinces which meet the requirements of medicare legislation. This year, when medicare was originally due to begin operations, Ottawa had estimated $34 as the average per capita cost. But next year, officials estimate, it will be $42. The

Don't let the picture fool you. The ump's don't take sides. But they are on top of the play as Shags Crawford, one of the more colorful figures among National League umpires demonstrates.

Jim LeFebvre (5) of the Dodgers put the tag on Braves' Mack Jones as the Atlanta player tried to steal third. Dodgers won the game. See story below.

Singer Humming A Fastball Tune

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bill Singer, the six-foot-four Los Angeles rookie, pitched a four-hitter and struck out 12 Monday night in blanketing Atlanta Braves 2-0 for his sixth straight National League victory. The shutout completed a four-game series sweep for the Dodgers over the visiting Braves.

Singer sparked in three late-season relief appearances for the Dodgers last fall, but had trouble gripping the ball at times because of a mysterious coldness in a finger on his pitching hand.

However, post-season surgery involving the removal of a piece of rib to correct a pinched nerve—eliminated the problem and the hard-throwing right-hander has overcome a shaky start this year to boost his record to 8-4. In eight starts over the past five weeks he has yielded only six earned runs in a span of 60 2-3 innings.

In other NL action, Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed Chicago Cubs 5-1; Houston Astros battered first-place St. Louis Cardinals 11-4 and Cincinnati Reds shut out San Francisco Giants 2-0.

OVERPOWERS BRAVES
Singer overpowered the Braves with six strikeouts in the first three innings and retired 16 batters in order after a first-inning single by Tito Francona.

The Dodgers scored against Ken Johnson in the first on Nate Oliver's double, an infield single by Willie Davis and a double play grounder. They added a run in the third on a hit batsman and Jim LeFebvre's triple.

Roberto Clemente delivered four runs with a single and his 18th homer as the Pirates extended their winning string to five games.

Woody Fryman registered his second victory against six losses.

JIM MALONEY

... 16 scoreless innings

es with relief help from Roy Face.

The Astros, who snapped St. Louis' eight-game victory string Sunday, banged out 13 hits against loser Ray Washburn and two successors, wrapping up the verdict with a five-run flurry in the seventh.

Rookie Norm Miller led the attack with three successive doubles, drove in a pair of runs and scored twice.

Jim Maloney stopped the Giants on two hits and extended his scoreless string to 16 innings as the second-place Cardinals' runaway league lead. Maloney retired 22 of the last 23 batters he faced in bringing his season mark to 11-1.

The Reds scored the only run they needed in the first inning when Vada Pinson singled, stole second and raced across on Lee May's bloop single. A sacrifice fly by Tommy Helms in the fifth produced the second run.

Elston Howard Rides Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elston Howard has travelled the pennant race road enough times to know all the curves and bends, but young Steve Jones can be forgiven if he is not so familiar with it yet.

Howard, 38, was picked up by pennant-hot Boston Red Sox from New York Yankees three weeks ago and paid his first dividend Monday night with a ninth-inning single that drove in the winning run in the Red Sox' 6-5 victory over Washington Senators.

And Jones, a young left-hander called up by Chicago White Sox from Indianapolis last week, got credit for his first major league victory as the White Sox squeezed into a tie for the American League lead with idle Minnesota Twins by edging the Yankees 4-3.

In the only other American League games played Monday, California Angels dominated Cleveland Indians 6-4 and Baltimore Orioles defeated Kansas City Athletics 5-2.

Howard, who played in nine World Series with the Yankees, was delighted at finally making a contribution to the Red Sox' pursuit of Monday's victory.

The shutout was the first since back of Chicago and Minnesota.

Howard was joined by such players as Harmon Killebrew, who was picked up by the White Sox, and Jim Fregosi, who was picked up by the White Sox, and Jim Fregosi, who was picked up by the White Sox.

Kelowna Awarded Inter-District And B.C. Finals In Senior Softball

The inter-district senior B men's softball playoffs will be held at Kelowna's King's Stadium Sunday.

The best of three series will be played all in one day with the first game at 2 p.m., the second at 4 p.m. and the third, if necessary, at 6 p.m.

The winner of the Rutland Rovers - Willow Inn Willows series will represent Kelowna while the Kamloops area will supply either Ye Olde Pizza Joint or Plaza Hotel.

The tournament winner will represent this district in the B.C. finals to be held at King's Stadium Sept. 2, 3, 4. Already, the Royal Anne Royals have qualified for the series as they finished in first place in regular league standings. The host city must have a team in the series and Royals won the honor.

More than 10 teams are expected to take part in the double knockout event.

Orr In The Hospital Bruins Are Unhappy

TORONTO (CP)—Bobby Orr, injured Boston Bruins defence ace, apparently will be ready to play when the 1967-68 National Hockey League season opens, but National Hockey League officials Monday continued to oppose mid-summer exhibition games.

Orr strained ligaments in his right knee while playing an exhibition game with professional players who live in the Winnipeg area against the Canadian national team.

Bill Schmidt, general manager of the Bruins, said in an interview that no Boston players had permission to play in the game.

Jim Dunn, president of the Manitoba Ojibwa Association, which sponsored the game, said he received verbal permission from Tom Johnson, assistant to Boston president Weston Adams.

"NILI contracts specify that a player must have written permission to appear in such games," Schmidt said, "and Orr did not have it."

Centre Peter Stenkowski of Toronto Maple Leafs had been scheduled to play, but an injured elbow kept him out of action.

Manager-coach Punch Imlach of the Leafs said Stenkowski had permission to play, but would be held responsible in case of an injury.

"If he had played and been injured, the whole exhibition would be his own responsibility—medical expense and loss of salary until he was declared fit to play," Imlach said.

Leafs are never permitted to play within six weeks of the opening of training camp, Imlach said.

Summer 'Spiel Was Successful

The John Switty rink of Kelowna was the only local foursome to win an event in the Kelowna Centennial Midsummer Mixed Bouspiel which concluded Sunday.

There were four events—A, B, C, D—in the 42-rink three-day 'spiel.

Switty won the C event and the Alberta Distillers Trophy by defeating the South Burnaby rink skipped by Tom Varley. Members of the winning rink were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Heffelfinger, Peggy Ratel and Switty.

The A event was won by the Brock Giles foursome of North Vancouver. They beat the George Stringer rink of Kelowna to win the Potters Distillery Trophy.

The B event winner was the mother, daughter and son rink of Tom Kerstein from Vancouver who took the Willow Inn Hotel Trophy. Again, the loser was a Kelowna rink that lost. Fred Waite had the dubious honor.

LOCALS WIN
The D event was won by Jake Taylor of North Burnaby. They won the Royal Anne Hotel Trophy by beating Bob Armstrong of North Vancouver.

Besides the trophies, three additional prizes were awarded in each event. Local winners were George Stringer, Fred Waite, Bob Jones, Fred Kitch, Paul Manchur and Keith Blair.

The 'spiel was organized by Bud Mooney and George Stringer. Mr. Mooney feels it would be unfortunate if this bouspiel were not continued because of the tremendous response received.

MANY RETURNED
We had to return at least 40 entry fees," said Mr. Mooney, "because we just couldn't accommodate any more than 42 rinks. However, next year, we may be able to accommodate as many as 60 rinks."

The summer bouspiel committee received plenty of help from the 'Brier committee. In fact, the 'spiel was a dry run for the curling championships in March.

Also helping out were some volunteer members of the Kelowna Curling Club.

AFTER DARK FIRED
The Athletics contended an incident on an airline trip from Boston to Kansas City, which led to the suspension of Krause, had been overplayed.

Aker, the team's player representative who was fined $250 for missing curfew last Saturday, said the Krause incident was not the start of the trouble but rather had "brought it into the open."

Prior to Monday's Baltimore-Kansas City game, the Athletics voted unanimously not to retract the statement. They said Finley requested the retraction.

Finley asked Aker to delay announcing the retraction until after further discussion, but after another unanimous vote, the decision was released.

Dark said Monday he knew and approved of the players' statement criticizing Finley.

The deposed manager said Saturday which supported Dark and accused Finley of undermining team morale by using an informant to spy on the team.

Bruce Clarke won the boys 13 and 14 championship with three first and one second place finish.

Jill Brown won the girls 15 and 16 championship with four first place ribbons. She also broke pool records in the 50-metre butterfly and 100-metre backstroke.

ENJOYING TROPHY PRESENTATION PARTY

Chatting on the lawn of Mrs. Anne Williamson's lakeshore home on Hobson Road, prior to the barbecue dinner party and trophy presentations to the winners of the Unlimited Hydroplane races, Saturday evening, are, from the left,

Centennial Commissioner for Canada John Fisher; Alderman Marian Linell, Vancouver; Edward F. M. Hill, president of the Westbank and District Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Hill.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES ENYEDY

First United Church Scene Of Pretty August Wedding

Baskets of gladioli decorated the First United Church of Kelowna on August 5 at 4 p.m., when Wilma Mary, daughter of George Oliver of Drayton Valley, Alta., and Mrs. Kenneth H. Doherty of Kelowna, became the bride of James Enyedy of Hinton, Alta., son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Enyedy of Bonanza, Alta.

Rev. Seales officiated at the ceremony and the soloist, Ernest Burnett, sang "O Perfect Love and Through the Years during the signing of the register, accompanied by Rex Marshall at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of chiffon over peau d'elephant fashioned with a scalloped lace bateau neckline and lace-trimmed elbow-length sleeves. A full length sleeveless chiffon coat worn over her dress was edged down the front and around the hemline with exquisite matching lace, and a cluster of small white flowers held her waist-length three-layer veil of illusion net in place. She carried a cascading bouquet of red roses and stephanotis, tied with satin streamers dotted with rose buds and set on her white Bible.

Mrs. Donald Jamieson of Kelowna was her sister's matron of honor and Mrs. Donald Enyedy, sister-in-law of the groom, from Drayton Valley, was the bridesmaid. Mrs. Jamieson wore a floor-length dress styled on Empire lines with a sleeveless bodice of heavy white lace and a skirt of shell pink chiffon over peau d'elephant. Mrs. Enyedy's dress was similarly styled with a skirt of aqua satin. Their head-dresses consisted of three small white flowers trimmed with net; they wore short white gloves and carried bouquets of white gladioli entwined with tulle that matched their respective skirts.

Attending the groom as best men were Donald Enyedy of Drayton Valley, brother of the groom, and Donald Jamieson of Kelowna, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushering the guests to their seats were the groom's brother Leslie Enyedy of Bonanza, Alta., and the bride's brother Barry Oliver, Kelowna.

At the reception held at the Kelowna Aquatic, the mother of the bride received wearing a dress and matching jacket of shell pink shantung, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, chose a dress and jacket of beige lace with a matching hat and a corsage of white carnations.

The toast to the bride, proposed by her uncle, Gordon Oliver, Kelowna, was ably answered by the groom and the toast to the bridesmaids was given by the groom's mother. William Jamieson, master of ceremonies. Telegrams of congratulations were read from Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ells of Edmonton and from the groom's company in Alberta and a long distance phone call was received from Mr. and Mrs. A. Simon of New Westminster.

Nestling in blue tulle on the head table was a lovely three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and flanked on either side by three white candles. Flows of white gladioli completed the decor of the guest tables.

To travel on her honeymoon to Southern points the bride changed to a two-piece suit of mint green linen with white accessories, complemented with a corsage of red rose buds.

Mr. and Mrs. Enyedy will reside at 184 Sunway Drive, Hinton, Alta.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included: George Oliver, Drayton Valley, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Enyedy with Leslie, Jerry and Rita, Bonanza, Alta.; Mrs. J. Enyedy, Edmonton, grandmother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. J. Enyedy, Abbotsford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lorenz, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. D. Pearson, Camrose, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. D. Rosland, Camrose, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. G. Wells, New Westminster, grandparents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. W. Jamieson, Revelstoke.

FEMALES TO FLY ALGIERS (AP)—Radio Algerians announced the Algerian government will train 75 young women as jet fighter pilots. The government said the women were among 5,000 recent conscripts for military service.

Westbank Bride-Elect Honored At Showers And Garden Party

A bride-to-be of August 26, was honored last week with bridal showers given in both Kelowna and Westbank, the first at the home of Mrs. Paul Manchur, in Glenora, when fellow-workers at CKOV and others, gathered to surprise Miss Wendy Dobbin with a variety of bridal gifts. Balloons and turquoise and white streamers were the decorations used, these colors being repeated in the flower-trimmed box that was piled with gifts.

Presented on her arrival with a corsage, the guest of honor, after being escorted to her chair, proceeded to open her gifts in which she was assisted by bridesmaids-elect, Misses Charlene and Pat Brown, sisters of the groom. Following completion of her pleasant task, Wendy voiced her thanks to the company, after which a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served by the hostess and her friends.

GARDEN PARTY

Later in the week a shower was given on the lawn at the home of Mrs. W. J. Hewlett, Lakeview Heights, where, on her arrival, the bride-elect was led to her chair set beneath a parasol prettily decorated by her cousin, Janice Hewlett, with confetti-filled balloons, paper ribbons and flowers in pastel shades. Before opening her gifts, Wendy was presented with a corsage made by Mrs. Felix Menu and assisting her in the pleasant task of unwrapping her parcels were cousins Donna Edwards and Janice Rumley, following which the bride-elect thanked hostess and friends for the honor paid to her.

Assisting Mrs. Hewlett in serving refreshments were Mrs. Menu, Kerry Hewlett and Cecile Menu and before the gathering broke up, Mrs. Hewlett presented bouquets of gladioli to Mrs. W. R. Brown of Kelowna, Mrs. C. D. Dubbin, Lakeview Heights, Mrs. J. P. Weinard, Kamloops and Mrs. David Gellatly, Westbank.

The bride, whose marriage to Lorne Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Roy Brown, Kelowna, takes place August 26, belongs on both her father's and mother's sides, to pioneer Okanagan families, being a great granddaughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Dobbin who came to Westbank in the early years of the century and of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Gellatly, who came to the Okanagan in 1893 and to Gellatly (Westbank) in 1900.

ANN LANDERS

A Birthday Present Money Couldn't Buy

Dear Ann Landers: A year ago my husband asked me what I wanted for my birthday. I replied, "I want you to quit smoking." He raised an eyebrow and said nothing. The night before my birthday at 10 minutes before midnight he lit a cigarette and said, "This is my last one, honey. Happy Birthday."

I replied, "I don't believe it!" (He had nine packs left in a new carton.) Furthermore, he had smoked (and inhaled) between two and three packs a day for about 15 years. But he had the last laugh after all, because he really did quit.

Now that a year has passed I want to share my happiness with your readers. My husband gave me a birthday present that money couldn't buy. He gave me a gift that required enormous willpower and determination. He may also have given me several additional years of his life.

This may sound corny, but my grandmother used to say, "I'll try" can do anything. "I can't" can't do a darned thing. Will you print my letter, please? Perhaps it will serve as encouragement to others.—FRANK'S WIFE

Dear Wife: What a splendid idea for birthdays, anniversaries, or Christmas—the gift that keeps giving. And the person who gives it also enriches himself. Thanks for your letter—a fine gift to my readers.

Dear Ann Landers: Any housewife who lets a 300-pound relative in spike heels ruin her beautiful floor twice, and goes to the expense of sanding and refinishing each time—and then lets the big mouse in the house again so she can ruin her floors a third time—is a damned fool. The only bigger damned fool is Ann Landers who told the woman that floors are to walk on and if all the woman did was walk on the floors she shouldn't complain.

I am sure thousands of other readers also thought you were crazy but this letter will never appear in print because you always have to be right. So goodbye, dear, hello. I did indeed say floors are for walking on, and a floor should be able to take a 300-pounder without getting wrecked. I also said the relative should get out about the house and she would surely remove her shoes since no guest wants to knock holes in a hostess' floor.

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing about the rotten advice Mrs. John Dobbin, who came to the table and ate the salmon loaf intended for his mother's bridge luncheon.

My kids have a dog, two cats, a turtle, three goldfish, a canary and five hamsters. (I haven't looked since this morning, there may be more.) You answer made it sound as if the mother was at fault for putting the salmon loaf on the table.

That's where a salmon loaf belongs. The cat did NOT belong on the table. You should have told the boy that children who have pets should watch them. It's the least a child can do if his mother allows him to have a pet in the house.—MAD AT YOU

Dear Mad At Me: I agree that a child should be responsible for his pet, but that was not the question. The boy asked if the cat knew he was doing wrong. I replied, "Cats don't know right from wrong. They only know they like salmon."

You have a point, Mother, but if I had a cat I wouldn't put a salmon loaf on the table until I had checked on her whereabouts.

Coast Wedding Of Interest To Residents Of Interior

Of interest to many Interior residents was the wedding of Gwyneth, daughter of Mrs. Randolph Davis and the late Mr. Davis of Vancouver, and Floyd Dominic Celli, formerly of Westbank, son of Mrs. W. Millar of Vancouver.

The ceremony took place on Saturday, August 19, at 1:30 p.m. in St. Chad's Anglican Church, Vancouver, with Rev. Dr. W. D. B. Larmouth officiating, and giving the bride in marriage was the couple's minister, Rev. Henri C. M. Taudin-Chabot.

Carrying a bouquet of pale mauve orchids surrounded by pink roses and stephanotis, the bride was radiant in a high-waisted full length gown of pure white silk, complemented with a six-foot veil of lace. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Sonny Louie of Prince George, wore a short Empire styled dress of lemon crepe with matching shoes and a pill box hat, while the two bridesmaids, Miss Maureen Litterer of Vancouver and Miss Jennifer Lindal of Nanaimo, wore similar ensembles in a contrasting shade of delicate mauve. All three attendants carried baby yellow rosebuds nestling in white carnations.

Attending the groom in mid-night blue tuxedos were Frank Celli, who acted as his brother's best man, and the two ushers, Michael Litterer and Clifton Chu, all of Vancouver.

Following the reception held at the Point Grey Golf and Country Club where the bride's uncle James McVety gave the bridal toast, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to California. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Celli will take up residence in Vancouver where the groom is preparing his Master of Arts degree at UBC.

AROUND TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Crittenden entertained friends at a delightful after-five party at their Westside home on Saturday prior to the performance of the Banff Festival Ballet, at which their daughter Marla, Kelowna's 67-68 Lady-of-the-Lake, and her Lady-in-Waiting Barbara Newton, made their first official appearance as reigning royalty and were introduced to the audience by Rotary President Harry Webb.

Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Huitema returned recently by air from a holiday in Europe. They were accompanied on their trip by their family, Yolande, Onke, Arvin and Leslee, and the latter two returned to Kelowna with their parents, but Yolande and Onke stayed on and plan to return later by boat.

Enjoying a holiday in Okanagan Mission visiting his grandmother, Mrs. J. S. D. McClymont, is her grandson, Rick McClymont, from Vancouver.

and Mrs. Thomas Capozzi during hydroplane week were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ohlson and Mr. and Mrs. B. Tubbs from Seattle, and Walley Peterson from Chelan.

Albert Alpin, professor of Semantics from Manchester University, England, who has been spending the past month in the Okanagan visiting Dr. Clive Moss has left for the Cariboo to visit his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lipke and their three sons from Burns Lake have been visiting Miss Kathie Wiebe, Glenora Street, and Mr. Lipke's mother and stepfather Mr. and Mrs. Nick Fenigeno in Rutland for the past few days.

A Regatta party which was greatly enjoyed by the Visiting Royalty was the delightful tea held in their honor at the Legion Hall which was attended by their chaperones, the Lady-of-the-Lake contestants, members of the Queen's committee, and Kelowna's reigning royalty accompanied by Mrs. Sydney Cook. Prior to this year the tea has always been held as a prelude event, but this year, with the parade set ahead of Wednesday, it became a very pleasant social affair sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Waterman, Campbell Road, for a few days last week were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wilson from Naramata.

Cornelis Ouwehand has returned from Dordrecht, Holland, where he has been spending the past five weeks visiting his father, A. Ouwehand, who has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Scott returned last week from Winnipeg where they visited their son-in-law and daughter Ursula, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bates, and attended the Pan-American Games.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. M. Hill are their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Munro Strachan, with their small daughter Catherine Grace from Whalley, B.C., who arrived last week to attend the Hydroplane races.

Fourteen Children Are Twice As Much Fun As Seven

EDMONTON (CP)—Fourteen kids are twice as much fun as seven for the Barnes and MacLennan families, since a radio broadcast accidentally introduced them.

A story from Edmonton last winter described Dave and Elaine Barnes' carefully organized ski trips with their seven children. It also told of their preparations for a trailer trip across Canada this summer.

In Sydney, N.S., 3,500 miles away, Dr. N. K. MacLennan heard the story and was "haunted by curiosity."

His family also had seven children; they all skied; they were planning a centennial trailer tour. He wrote a letter extending an invitation.

The prairie family plan to join the Maritime hosts and travel Cape Breton Island's Cabot Trail in August.

In July the MacLennans came to Edmonton and were shown Jasper and Banff national parks and the Calgary Stampede in a two-family tour that Mrs. Barnes says looked like "the Sunday school picnic."

EYE KEPT BUSY MONTREAL (CP)—May Elliott Cutler of Montreal, publisher, with a series of seven books on Expo 67 as her first venture, had to keep her eye on every aspect of preparation—from conferring with the author on the book's contents to organizing photographers or artists to handle illustrations and settling details of paper texture.

Announce New Healing Substance: Shrinks Piles

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most important of all—results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months.

This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue.

Now Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form—both Preparation H. Pink and all ailments. Satisfaction or your money refunded.

Amounts Spent On Defence Cause Ottawa Repercussions

OTTAWA (CP)—There are undercurrents of thought—or at least eddies—in the capital that something drastic should be done about defence spending. Informants say there is a growing feeling both inside and outside the government, that defence expenditures—the 1967-68 defence budget is $1,688,000,000—could be put to better use.

No government policy on these lines has emerged yet and probably won't for some time. Sources said the government has just come through the battle of armed forces unification and would like to leave defence issues at rest for a few months, anyway.

But Quebec MPs particularly are reported to be growing more and more restless about the heavy defence burden. They would like to see the money spent on, for example, education.

Particular significance is attached, especially by officials in the defence department, to Prime Minister Pearson's description of Conservative President Dalton Camp's recent speech on defence as "most interesting" and "thoughtful."

Mr. Camp advocated withdrawal of Canada from military alliances and increased spending on foreign aid.

Informants said the defence department submitted to the government a 1968-69 defence budget considerably higher than the cabinet was prepared to accept.

Recruiting is going well and this will increase personnel costs. If the current defence budget is not increased, which seems likely, it follows there will be less money for new weapons and equipment—the very thing Defence Minister Hellyar has been trying to avoid since he became minister in 1963.

Opening lead—king of clubs. When a side has to choose between which of two suits to name as trump, it will generally select the one in which it has the greater length. Certainly, to outnumber the opponents' trumps by the largest possible margin is a reasonable aim, but despite this, there are occasions when it is better not to choose the longest suit as trump.

Here is an example of such a case. The hand occurred in a national championship several years ago.

A slam was reached with the North-South cards at slightly more than half the tables, but whether or not it succeeded depended entirely on whether the final contract was six hearts or six diamonds.

Those pairs who bid six hearts had no chance of making the contract. They had to lose a spade and a club and go down one. The temptation to play at six hearts (worth 1,430 points) rather than six diamonds (worth 1,370 points) proved to be more than these pairs could withstand.

But those pairs who contracted for six diamonds — on the same sequence or one similar too that shown — were well rewarded for their efforts.

Regardless of how the opponents elected to defend, declarer had no trouble making the contract. With 11 tricks to start — a spade, six hearts and four diamonds — all that declarer had to do against any lead was draw three rounds of trumps, ruff a club in dummy, discard three spades on the long hearts, and eventually ruff the ten of spades in the South hand to produce the 12th trick.

This extra ruffing trick was not available to the pairs who played the hand in hearts. The suit with eight-cards in the combined hands thus served more effectively as trump than the suit with nine cards, since the long side suit provided discards that created an additional ruff.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
Take quick note of other's moods on Wednesday. Persons born under some Signs will be highly congenial; those born under others will be somewhat on the "touchy" side. It shouldn't take long for you to differentiate—and act accordingly. Not a good day in which to hold conferences or business discussions.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your chart indicates that you should take advantage of every available opportunity to make advances in occupational interests now, since stars presently stimulate good ideas and the ingenuity for putting them into effect. And, within one week, you will enter an excellent month-long period, which should bring fine results for your efforts. Next good cycles on the job and/or business front: Late December through February 15th; April, mid-May, June and July, of 1968. Best on the fiscal score: The aforementioned late-December-mid-February weeks, next June, July and August. Do, however, avoid extravagance and/or speculation, especially during the forthcoming October and November.

Where romance and social relationships are concerned, you can look forward happily to most of the year—with accent on especially stimulating experiences along both lines in September and late December (both excellent periods for all Leotites), next April and May. According to the stars, except for short trips, you may have no desire to do much travelling during the balance of this year but, if you're planning a journey—especially a long one—consider February or any of the weeks between May 15th and September 10th of 1968 as auspicious starting dates.

A child born on this date will be endowed with the qualities needed to excel as an artist, educator or diagnostician.

Cattle Epidemic Spreads Across Many B.C. Farms

Frank Richter, B.C. minister of agriculture, announced Monday in Vancouver that pink eye or infectious keratitis has reached epidemic proportions among beef and dairy cattle in many areas of B.C. The disease causes reduced milk production and occasionally permanent blindness in cattle.

Brian Burnett, 16, of Hudson Hope, was in critical condition Monday after his car left the Chetwynd-Hudson Hope Highway near Dawson Creek and rolled over. The youth lay sprawled near the wreckage about seven hours before help arrived.

At Lac la Poudre a 14-year-old boy spent half an hour in a tree escaping the repeated attacks of an enraged mother bear. Eric Armstrong, of Springfield, said the bear attempted to reach him 15 times but he beat her back each time by kicking her in the face.

A Salt Lake City detective and a sergeant of the RCMP left Salt Lake Monday to question a man in Winnemucca, Nev., in connection with a shooting in Canada. Capt. Don Ferguson of the Salt Lake City police detective division identified the man held as Keith Edward Woodall. Ferguson said he would be questioned about the shooting at Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, of Deloy Irie.

H. (Rap) Brown, militant Black Power leader, was unable to win a reduction in his $25,000 bail Monday and remained behind bars in New York on a federal gun charge. U.S. Commissioner Earle N. Bishop continued the $25,000 bail he assessed last week against Brown, 23, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson completed Monday her two-day jam-packed tour of Expo 67 and its theme "Man and His World"—including the Communist world.

FRANK RICHTER... pink eye strikes

Court proceedings against nine policemen and four private investigators, on charges arising from alleged brutality against Louis Scottie, were postponed Monday in Montreal until Oct. 4 by consent of both the Crown and the defence.

Leo Telvi, who once served a prison term in the aftermath of the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel, was shot to death Monday on a Manhattan street. He followed in violent death by 11 years his brother, Abe Telvi, identified as the acid thrower who blinded Riesel April 5, 1956.

A private funeral service will be held today for a Listowel, Ont., farmer who shot and killed a provincial police constable and a justice of the peace Saturday and then committed suicide. Joseph Jantzi, 42, will be buried in the Maple View Memorial Church cemetery. The service will be held at the Fute Brothers funeral home, Wellesley, with a memorial service in the church.

Governor Raimundo Abarca Alarcon of Guerrero state, Mexico, blamed a federal deputy and the leader of the national farmers' union Monday for events leading to a weekend shootout which killed 26 at a banquet of copra growers in the jet-set resort of Acapulco.

Chelley Lynn Stanway lost her fight with bone cancer Monday. She died shortly before noon at Calgary's Foothills General Hospital, ending a struggle that involved government officials and hospitals in Canada and the United States.

More than 11,000 individuals and corporations have subscribed in excess of $12,000,000 for more than 480,000 shares in the Bank of British Columbia, retiring president Frank Trebell said Monday in Vancouver. With the sum received, Mr. Trebell said "there is more than enough capital on hand to start a sound bank with every prospect of early growth and early profits."

Changing Education Set-Up Harder Than A Moon Trip

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Bringing about changes in education will be harder than getting a man on the moon, says John Young, Campbell River secondary school principal.

"It's certain a man will be on the moon within the next two or three years," he said Monday, "but it's not so certain that necessary change in education will come about that quickly."

Mr. Young was a member of a panel discussing education innovations at the B.C. Teachers Federation summer conference here. His Campbell River school is considered one of the most progressive in Canada.

He said students must be regarded as individual human beings and their rights must be respected. The same rule must apply for teachers, he said. Mr. Young said students in his school are not required to attend classes and punishment does not exist.

NO PUNISHMENT — "If a student shows anti-social behaviour we try therapy—I stopped, meeting out punishment many years ago."

"I say, to hell with teaching. We don't want any teaching going on in my school. We want all kinds of learning."

"If a student doesn't like a teacher, he just doesn't attend his classes. He learns from other students instead, and sometimes they do a better job than the teachers."

Charles Ovans, the federation's general secretary, said he agreed with Mr. Young's ideas.

The social progress that is possible through education will come about only if the schools stop emphasizing schooling and start educating."

He said the establishment of the MacKenzie Commission on Education announced last week shows teachers have faith in their ability to improve educational standards.

B.C. teachers will spend $15,000 of their own money during the next 12 months examining provincial teaching methods.

Climber Army Assails Peak

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Fifty Italian mountaineers, fortified by imported salami and macaroni, have climbed Mount Kilimanjaro after fighting through some of the worst weather encountered on the 19,340-foot high mountain in any August. The climb, normally an easy exercise for experienced mountaineers, was so tough that an African porter collapsed and died shortly before the summit.

Pet Food Sale Brings Smiles

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Farmers seeking higher profits opened a store Monday to sell milk—just plain, ordinary milk—but they called it "pet food."

The farmers, selling milk at below state-regulated prices, are laughing. Customers, who are saving 29 cents a gallon, are smiling. But the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission is frowning. The commission has set prices at $1.08 a gallon for the consumer.

The store, in its first day, did a brisk business. A couple of dozen customers were lined up before the doors opened.

Congressman Slain On Mexican Border

GUATEMALA CITY (Reuters) — A Guatemalan congressman, his 16-year-old daughter and chauffeur have been found murdered near the Mexican border, their bodies dumped in the trunk of their car, police said Monday. Police said a gunman attacked the car as Congressman Ruben Alfonso Merida was being driven through the department of San Marcos Saturday night.

SLAVS CATCH UP — Yugoslavia did not have one international airport ten years ago. Today it has nine with 20 foreign airline firms servicing them.

LBJ Holds Margin For War Policies

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson holds a slim 15-to-13 margin of support for his Vietnam war policies among 28 senators whose seats will be at stake in the 1968 general elections, an Associated Press poll shows.

An over-all canvass of the Senate in which 84 of the 100 senators expressed their opinions, found 44 willing to give a broad endorsement to the course Johnson is following and 40 opposed to it.

Johnson's conduct of the war is the underlying issue in hearings which the Senate foreign relations committee resumes today with Under Secretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach as a witness.

Led by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, war policy doves showed every intention of airing further complaints that the president is over-committing the United States militarily and is not taking steps that lead to peace negotiations.

SOME STANDING PAT — On the other side, the AP canvass disclosed some hawks standing pat behind the president but demanding even greater military efforts while others are deserting him because he has refused to take all the wraps off U.S. fighting forces.

For the 34 candidates who will seek Senate seats next year, support or criticism of the president's policies may become critical in their campaigns.

Johnson is expected to head the Democratic ticket. As of now, 10 Democrats who persuasively will be running with him back his policies while nine oppose.

Among prospective Republican candidates who will be on a ticket opposing Johnson's reelection, five now generally support the way he is conducting the war and four are critical of his policies.

WON'T TAKE STAND

Four Democrats and two Republicans declined to take any stand at this point. Several of those who did express an opinion did not want to be named publicly.

Senator Russell B. Long of Louisiana, the assistant Democratic leader, left no doubt he will be out in front in support of the president in his reelection campaign. He said he is "a bigger hawk than the president."

Senator George D. Aiken (Rep. Vt.), a critic of Johnson's policies who will be running again in 1968, voiced a Republican viewpoint. That Ho Chi Minh, president of North Vietnam, "will never negotiate with Johnson, McNamara and Co."
